SHOALS CONFREES ARE READY TO BEGIN WORK

Witnesses Testify To "Good Character" Of Edwards

STATE RESTS CASE AGAINST ACCUSED FAIRFIELD DOCTOR

Two Neighbors Heard As the Last Witness For Prosecution

END OF FAMOUS TRIAL IN SIGHT

Defendant Smiles As Friends Tell Of His Good Reputation

(Associated Press)

BESSEMER, Ala., Jan. 29—The state rested its case this morning in the trial of Dr. George T. Edwards, charged with slaying his wife on December 2 last year.

Two witnesses were heard by the state today, neighbors of Dr. Edwards who testified to alleged events on the morning of the tragedy.

Mrs. Harry Hillhouse testified she was awakened by an indescribable metallic ring, which was followed by a shot. After an interval of three to five minutes, she said, three other shots were heard.

John Hogan testified as to the location of the Hillhouse and Edwards homes.

When Mrs. Hillhouse took the witness stand, there was a craning of necks and apparent suspense throughout the courtroom, but the spectators soon were settled in their seats. She testified she heard three shots in the home with a slight interval between each shot.

She was awakened, she said, by a loud, "metallic ring," a sound "I had never heard before." After that she heard the shots. She went to a window and did not see, nor hear, anyone leaving the Edwards home.

S. M. Hoard, of Mulberry, Ala., a farmer took the stand as the first witness for Dr. Edwards.

He said the defendant's reputation was good.

Mulberry is a little community in Central Alabama, where Dr. Edwards first practiced medicine after finishing college. It was there that he met Annie Lou Dudley, who later became his wife, and for whose death the state has accused him.

Numerous other characterized witnesses were sworn, each testifying to the good reputation of Dr. Edwards. Some of these witnesses had known him from young manhood. Witnesses were being rapidly called and the end of the trial was in sight.

W. P. Whitman of Elba, a druggist, testified that Dr. Edwards and Mrs. Edwards had visited at his home and that the couple "was very affectionate."

T. M. Galloway, an aged teacher of Selma, testified Dr. Edwards was a student in his school and that his character was "decidedly good."

Woman Trader Wins Big Fortune

(Associated Press)

CHICAGO, January 29—In keeping with the trend of modern times, a woman, Mrs. Scott Durand, who refers to herself as a "dirt farmer," is reported to have made a fortune running close to six figures yesterday in one of the most hectic days in the wheat pit in 50 years.

While the giants of the wheat trade among them James A. Patton, once regarded as the "wheat king" and Arthur Tatten, a large operator, were reported out of the wheat futures market, old general public got into the market. Mrs. Durand would only smile and admit that she "dabbled in wheat" but refused to confirm or deny the stories of her winnings.

She and her husband own the Model Crabtree dairy farm at Lake Bluff. She thinks the price of wheat will go even higher.

Daughter Found By Mother After Nine Year Search

(Associated Press)

ALBANY, N. J., Jan. 29—The successful ending of a 14 year search for her lost daughter, was confirmed by Mrs. Granden Thompson, upon her return here today from Middletown, Md., where she located Virginia Benton, 18, a daughter by a former marriage.

The girl was attending school and earning her living as a domestic. While Mrs. Thompson, then Mrs.

Benton, was ill in Philadelphia 14 years ago she and her husband were in financial straits. Virginia was placed in an orphanage. The house burned, the child was sent elsewhere and the records destroyed.

Nine years ago the girl's father died, and Mrs. Benton married Mr. Thompson.

The mother now is well to do and said that Virginia will return to her mother's home.

ROBBERY CAPITAL OFFENSE IN STATE

Section Of the Code Is Explained At The Capital

(Associated Press)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Jan. 29—That robbery is a capital offense in Alabama is a fact that is unknown to many people who have never taken the trouble to read the criminal code, according to state officials.

Section 5460 of the criminal code states that any person who is convicted of robbery at the discretion of the jury, must be punished with death or by imprisonment in the penitentiary.

Robbery should not be confused with burglary in this connection, it was pointed out, although indiscriminate use of the two terms over a long period of years has taken from the words the strict construction placed on them by law. In this connection it was said, stores and houses are often reported as "robbed" when in reality they were burglarized.

Robbery as construed by law means the felonious and forcible taking away of the goods of another. "Stick-up" cases where a weapon calculated to produce death is used as a threat or a means of intimidation come under this classification and may be punished with death in Alabama. Numbers of cases of this type have been reported in cities of Alabama within the past month in which the robbers secured trifling amounts it was said, the law taking no recognition of the amount taken in dealing out justice. It was pointed out, would of course be influenced to some extent in metering out justice by the character of the robbery in regard to the danger in which the victim was placed.

Burglary is confined to breaking into houses with felonious intent and does not include the work of "sneak thieves." If a burglar who enters a house or a store is detected by the owner and the burglar uses a weapon to complete the theft, the crime would be robbery, it was said.

There are several cases in Alabama in which men have been sentenced to hang for robbery, it was stated. A case is now pending before the supreme court in which Emory Smith convicted in Jefferson county of robbery and sentenced to hang on January 2, 1925, has received a stay of execution pending the ruling of the court.

FIRES AT WOMAN, THEN SLAYS SELF

Yale Law Student dead and Victim Is In Serious Condition

(Associated Press)

CLARKSBURG, West Va., Jan. 29—Nelson C. Woods, 22, a freshman in the law school of Yale university, shot and killed himself today after he had fired two shots into the body of Mrs. Georgia Warder, 23 year old widow of Bridgeport, West Va.

The tragedy was believed to have been caused by Mrs. Warder's refusal to marry the young student.

A taxi cab driver, who had driven Woods and Mrs. Warder from Clarksburg to the home of her brother, in Bridgeport, where she lived, heard Woods say as he stood upon the steps of the home, "well, if you don't marry me, nobody else can have you."

The couple went into the house and soon the driver heard the shots. Neighbors rushed to the house and Mrs. Warder was taken to a hospital where it was said she would probably die.

NEW COURSE STARTS AT ALBANY HIGH

Students To Use Their Natural Talents To Greater Degree

"A finding and broadening" course with reference to languages, was begun at the Albany junior high school with the new semester. The object of this course is to discover if the students have natural bents for learning certain courses, and on finding what the children are suited for, to start them in the proper direction early.

It has long been noticed that many students choose work for which they were not adapted and found a great deal of difficulty in pursuing their work, some losing time in school by failing in some of the courses. If pupils taking the newly devised courses in language find themselves ready linguists, they are pushed forward in the study of languages, but those who find great difficulty in learning are advised to drop the course after a year and taking up something that is mastered more naturally. It is believed to be a great forward step in education.

BEAT PROPOSAL TO REDUCE RATE

Suggestion to Make the 1920 Rate Effective For Papers Lost

(Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29—A proposal to reduce second class mail rates to the 1920 level was rejected by the senate today as an amendment to the postal pay and rate increase bill.

Defeat of the amendment offered by Senator George, democrat of Georgia by a vote of 43 to 36, opened the way for action on the increase of these rates proposed in the bill.

A proposal to make the 1920 rates effective only to newspaper then was defeated also 65 to 31 on motion of Senator McKellar, democrat of Tennessee.

On motion of Senator Odell, republican of Nevada, the senate then voted to exempt publications subject to first and second zone mail rates from the one cent a pound increase in rates proposed in the bill.

As a result the rate on second class mail sent in the first two zones is retained at two cents a pound.

The spirited exchange of shots was ended by the appearance of reinforcements which compelled the Kiangsu troops to submit to disarmament. The panic that resulted when the shooting started, resulted in the death or injury to a number of non-combatants.

Four Stills And Two Men Taken

Four illicit stills were captured on Foxes creek about one miles across the Lawrence county line, near Hillsboro, on Wednesday evening, by Federal Prohibition Officers V. S. Root and L. G. Brown.

Two negroes, Will Swope and Jones Love, alleged to have been caught operating the stills, were brought to the county jail, to be transferred to Huntsville this afternoon, where they will stand trial on charges of violating the prohibition laws. It was said that two other negroes escaped when they saw the officers.

One of the stills was said to have been of 80 gallons capacity while two were of 60 gallons capacity. One of the plants was in operation when the officers arrived. All of the stills were on a strip of land not exceeding 10 acres it was said.

No whiskey was found. There were 619 men and twenty-four officers of Alabama in action during the world war and ninety five men officers died from wounds.

Everyone Will Share In Building

(An Editorial)

Down the annals of history are recorded the deeds of people who accomplished, the folks that failed are not entered. They were forgotten at the start and remained in the same class at the end.

The entire state of Alabama, possibly the southland, is watching for the outcome of the drive that has been inaugurated here for the building of a Tennessee River Bridge at this point. The state and the southland will draw conclusions at the end. The cities of Albany and Decatur and the counties of Morgan and Limestone will be placed in the eyes of the great sections that will be vitally effected as "Those Who Did," or "Those Who Failed." It is up to the people of this section to give them the answer and the answer must be iron bound and in money. Everyone is to share in the building, it must be done at once.

There are numbers and numbers of reasons why this great project must be realized. A bridge at this point means a direct advantage first to the property owners of the section and the agricultural interests. More adequate marketing facilities, an increase in land values. It means to the merchants and businessmen an increase in trade in all the counties that are effected. It means to the merchant class that they will be allowed to serve a doubled territory whereas at this time they are but serving an approximate half. It means the bringing of vast numbers of tourists from the north and south and the completion ultimately of an improved highway system through this territory. It has a most important effect on the cities to the south and to the north. Hartselle will gain, Falkville will enjoy an expansion, Cullman and Birmingham will share and the remainder of the state to the south of us will be greatly benefitted. To the north, Athens and Limestone county will feel the increase in trade and a direct communication with the southern sections of the northern district that they have never before experienced. Nashville and Columbia will be directly benefitted with the travel over the Bee Line highway and a closer relation with the neighboring state.

The erection of a bridge at this point in short means everything that is beneficial and conducive to growth and development. There is no objection to be raised as to the advisability of building and a fair and square proposition has been made to the people of the section by the highway commission. We have been asked for $100,000 by the commission and they agree to construct a standard type bridge. Is there any proposition more fair?

The building or the failure to build will establish the northern section as a section of builders and progressive citizens or we shall be branded as unprogressive and consequently be forced to remain on the outside in the "nothing done" class.

The committees are working now that the great project may be underway by the early summer, do not hinder their work. For every dollar placed as a subscription there will be two returned through the channels of trade and commerce with the possible assurance that the highway commission may later.

The principal. Let us NOW and build the highway. Let the committees that they can tell the highway "Here is our part."

Albany High Retains Tourney Lead; Power-Roofers Break Into Win Entry

Albany High school retained the lead held over the Y. M. C. A. in the local basketball tournament last night at the Albany high gymnasium and widened the gap to a game and a half between themselves and the Y. M. C. A. The game was hotly contested throughout and was interesting until the last minute of play. The final score stood 14-12.

The Power-Roofing company, broke into the winning column for the first time since the start of the tournament. A savage rush of pentup fury that has been multiplied many times during the defeats that have been piled up against them showed plainly and the cellar champs won by one of the most peculiar scores in local court annals. The final score was 27-0. There is something radically wrong with a team when they fail to count at least once or as many as three times in an evening, but the Decatur team was clearly off in their passing and their basket ringing ability. All their shots went wild and a great number of their passes went into the hands of the Power-Roofing men who ranged over the floor with more spirit and fight than they have shown this season.

The first game was a battle from start to finish with Hurst of the high school and Roper of the L. & N. Y men as the offensive guns. Hurst tossed a basket in the last few minutes of play from the center of the floor that accounted for the sufficient margin to give victory to his school. The Y. M. C. A. lead by a single basket in the first half. Scoring was almost null and void with both teams playing a highly perfected defensive game. The high school defense was a feature although they allowed a number of long shots. The Y. M. C. A. found great difficulty in breaking through and were never able to work underneath the mesh in the initial half. Roper collected three baskets in the first half for a total of 6 points while Johnson and Hurst got one each for the high school score.

In the second half Hurst got under way while Roper was off on his long range tosses and although Chunn and L. T. Roper scored for the Y. M. C. A. the lead that Hurst piled up was never equaled. Perle at guard for the high school contributed two points in the latter half. The game was one of the best that has been played on the local court this year.

The second game was a matter of how many points the Power-Roofing people could amass before the end of the hostilities was announced. The entire Decatur team played erratically with their passes and shots going astray. Sims of the Power company shot three goals, Bloodworth 2, Morrow 2, Burns one foul, and Odum topped the scoring for the evening with 6 baskets. The Decatur boys never seemed able to get underway and displayed little team work feeling the loss of a regular forward heavily. The Power-Roofers took on the aspect of a basketball team for the first time this season and displayed some real talent and very good team work.

Team Standing

Albany High	6	0	1,000
Y. M. C. A.	4	2	.666
Decatur	2	6	.250
Power-Roofers	1	7	.125

The Y. M. C. A. team will go to Hartselle tonight to meet the Hartselle team at that point. Hartselle is said to have a team of fighting six footers who are well versed in the art of tossing points and are confident that they will down the Y with little trouble.

The Y. boys don't feel that way at all and Captain Ellison will take his tossers into the fray with the knowledge that he also has a fighting five that can push the meshes pretty hard.

Captain Ellison will work at a guard or center with Summerford and Roper at the forwards, L. T. Roper and Chunn, McAbee or Kirby will be at the guards for the fray tonight.

Paavo Nurmi continued to smash records in the Milrose games but there is a bright spot in the defeat of the foreign Frigerio who came to this country with a great record for long distance jaunts. Willie Plant of Norfolk took the 5,000 meter race and cracked a world record.

Both the Machine Shop and Bear Cats teams bowled over their heads last night. However, the Bear Cats went the wildest. They increased their team average by 22 pins, while the Machine Shop increased theirs by 8 pins.

Night Coughing— How to Stop It

Night coughing which, through loss of valuable sleep, often makes you feel utterly worn-out and useless during the day, and by quickly weakening the system lays you open to the most dangerous infections, can now be promptly checked by a very simple treatment. People who have hardly been able to rest on account of coughing spells have found that they can sleep the whole night through undisturbed after the very first trial.

The treatment is based on a remarkable prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery. You simply take a teaspoonful at night before retiring and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals the soreness and irritation, but it quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which is the real cause of the cough. The result is that you usually sleep as soundly as a babe the very first night, and the cough goes in a very short time.

The prescription contains no opiates or harmful drugs. It is safe for children as well as grown-ups. For coughs, chest colds, hoarseness, sore throat, spasmodic croup, bronchitis, laryngitis and bronchial asthma. At all good druggists. Ask for and lowering himself to the street with blankets, John W. Brook, convicted of larceny and carrying concealed weapons, has escaped from the county jail here. Officials discovered the escape before other prisoners had a chance to make a get-away.

12 Years Ago TODAY

From The Daily, January 29, 1913

Florence yesterday afternoon suffered the worst fire in her history, one business block being destroyed.

Miss Myrtle R. Radcliff and Edgar Sullivan, of Memphis, were quietly married yesterday.

W. E. Sibley and E. P. Childs have returned from a hunting trip in the east end of the county.

Curtis Gover has accepted a position with the Louisville and Nashville Railroad company.

The Progressive Culture Club held a meeting of their members and husbands Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. J. H. McNeill.

The Girl's Card Club met with Miss Mary Bibb Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. T. M. Jones and daughter, Annie, leave Friday for New Orleans to attend Mardi Gras.

The Office Cat remarks: "Keep busy, two thirds of promotion consist of motion."

Rivals may be having plenty of fun out of Birmingham's crime wave, but Birmingham isn't.

Giving a convict another chance sometimes means giving him another opportunity to break the law.

Belated Christmas gifts are much like styles, either very much ahead of time, or equally as far behind.

Thirty-seven hundred persons wanted The Daily to buy it last week. That was The Daily's average figure for the week.

When you are cussing the American government, remember that U. S. means "us" as well as United States.

"Seventh Heaven" to open Thursday" says a Birmingham News headline. Make reservations now, the paper might have added.

This Office Cat is absolutely ungentelemanly. Listen at this outburst: "Another thing that plays havoc with our illusions is the sight of a powder-rag after it has been used on what looked like a perfectly clean girl."

"I favor the Underwood bill, because I am willing to trust the President of the United States to make a lease of the property as provided in the bill," Representative Edward B. Almon. Well said.

ALMON SAYS ANOTHER EFFORT WILL BE MADE TO INTEREST HENRY FORD

The address of Congressman Edward B. Almon in the house Tuesday afternoon, in which he declared that if the Underwood bill is passed, friends of the Muscle Shoals project will renew their effort to interest Henry Ford in the plant, is a cheering announcement to the people of the Tennessee Valley.

The Underwood bill provides that the President of the United States shall be responsible for the leasing of the project and no one can foretell what his course will be. Congressman Almon points out that no company, American owned and American controlled, is barred from making an effort to lease the property, and it will be the task of the president to select from the list of those available the one firm or individual considered the best from a standpoint of public service.

Mr. Ford first became interested in the Shoals when the project was in a precarious position. The ending of the war, in the opinion of some, ended the necessity for the gigantic nitrate plants. Some even went so far as to advocate the scrapping of the entire works and the removal of what part of the dam had been started from the river. It was the interest of Mr. Ford which brought the project back to the forefront as one of the leading power sites in the nation. The Valley always will be under obligation to Mr. Ford for that.

Disgusted by the delays his offer met with in congress, the Detroit finally withdrew his bid. That was a blow to the hopes of the Ford advocates, but his offer had stood sufficiently long to awaken the nation to a realization that the Shoals plans must not be junked, but that the site must be developed.

Friends of Muscle Shoals would welcome him back. They would like very much to see him again a bidder for the project, for they believe that he would inaugurate an era of development the like of which the South, and likely the nation, never has witnessed before.

During his address, Congressman Almon stated he reposed confidence in the President of the United States that he would negotiate a lease which will be of benefit to the nation. That confidence is shared by the people of the Tennessee Valley. They would prefer that Mr. Ford renew his offer, and that the President see fit to lease to him, but above all things they do desire that congress shall provide Muscle Shoals with a fixed and certain future.

BUILDING A BRIDGE IS SIGNIFICANT OF OUR STRENGTH AND ABILITY

"There is a tide in the affairs of men, which, taken at its flood leads on to fortune," said the bard of Avon in the long ago, and yet the declaration is as true today as it was then. Few men or communities are missed entirely by opportunity. To some opportunity appears but once, on a fortunate few opportunity makes repeated calls. No one has ever had assurance of being in one class or the other.

A banker who has accumulated much of worldly goods, writing recently in a national magazine, impressed on his readers his belief that success, as the world judges success, is little more than a matter of seizing opportunities when they are presented. Those who take advantage of their chances go upward; those who neglect to take advantage of their chances, remain stationary or drift backward.

"Getting in on the ground floor" is a phrase constantly used in describing the success of this or that firm or individual. We frequently hear of some new business alignment, and that "so and so" has gotten "in on the ground floor." Really the public sometimes attributes to the phrase a sinister conception that is uncalled for. "Getting in on the ground floor" is merely a matter of opportunities taken advantage of.

Bring into your mind for a moment two aged residents of any community with which you are familiar. Consider their status. One is wealthy, one is poor. Why is that so? There may be many reasons for it, but after all, isn't a very large share of the cause contributed by the failure on the one hand of one to take advantage of his opportunities to invest in real estate, in growing business, or some other legitimate means by which he would increase his capital; or on the other hand, the making the most of his opportunities by the wealthy one?

Two other young fellows grow up, side by side, and go forth into the world. One utilizes spare moments for study and improvement the other wastes his precious hours. One goes up, the other never advances. Isn't opportunity in that case equal?

Why did Miami, Fla., lead the entire nation in the last census in growth of population? Does anyone doubt that it was because Miami took advantage of every opportunity open to her for expansion?

Communities, in many respects, are similar to individuals; some communities have more natural resources than others. Some people are born with greater talent than others. None ever progressed, however, without the use of the talents they have whether these talents be in small or larger degree. In other words, neither is able to advance without taking advantage of opportunities.

Here in the Tennessee Valley we have opportunity knocking at our doors. We have before us a plan for obtaining immediately a bridge across the Tennessee river at this point.

The state commission has put the issue squarely up to us. We have asked them this question: "If we raise a fund of $100,000 will the Alabama highway department provide the rest of the money necessary to build a bridge across the Tennessee river at Albany-Decatur AT ONCE?"

Their reply was "We will."

It is opportunity's request for admittance.

Since the commission's assurance was given the people of this section, an organization has been perfected to look after the details of this great movement. The plans for the campaign have been mapped out and the appointed workers have tackled their task.

Upon the success or failure of this enterprise which we have undertaken depends, to a very large extent, whether Albany and Decatur and neighboring communities will rush forward to "place" in the marathon of progress, or whether we shall be numbered among the "also rans."

If we fail to raise this fund, we will have lost more than a bridge across the Tennessee river; we will have lost confidence in ourselves, and outsiders who are watching our effort will have lost confidence in us. A community which cannot raise $100,000 for a project of such possibilities as the bridge is, cannot and will not attract favorable attention from outside interests.

The stigma, which failure to build this bridge now would place on us, would handicap us for years. Aside from every other consideration facing the question purely from a selfish viewpoint, WE CANNOT AFFORD TO FAIL.

If every citizen of the Tennessee Valley will carefully weigh the benefits the construction of this bridge now will heap upon us, there will be no question of failure. The dollars involved in the bridge transaction is not the principal obstacle, the committees of solicitation will have to overcome. Their greatest task will be to awaken each and every one of our citizens to compare only the advantages and the disadvantages of building this bridge now. Our people must be aroused!

The construction of the bridge now will bring money immediately into this section, of course, but that feature is insignificant in comparison with others. It will link the counties of Morgan and Limestone counties; it will remove a traffic barrier which has sent hundreds, perhaps thousands of tourists over other highway routes.

Construction of the bridge now will benefit every section of Alabama by the improvement of the state's highway chain; it will open larger marketing territory for producers; increase selections possibilities for consumers, and help those who are in the business of bringing consumer and producer together; it will fill a need which has been felt here for years and which, yearly, has been becoming more acute; in fact the bridge is second only to Muscle Shoals in financial importance to this section.

All of these things, the construction of the bridge now will bring to us, but The Daily sincerely believes that above everything else good the bridge will bring us, the prestige which we will acquire will be the most beneficial.

When the last dollar of this fund is turned over to the state treasury, and the workmen's camps are pitched on the banks of the Tennessee river, the citizens of Albany and Decatur will have unbounded confidence in their ability to do things. THAT CONFIDENCE WILL BE SHARED BY OTHERS. BE ASSURED OF THAT.

Then will be the Tennessee Valley be made doubly, yes more than doubly attractive to investors who are looking for communities who are up and doing; communities which do not dodge their responsibilities, but communities which, when they find obstacles in their path of progress, rush out to overcome them.

Why So Many Mothers Like Vicks So Well

An "Outside" Treatment—It Quickly Relieves Croup and Colds Without Dosing The Stomach.

In the homes where Vicks is the family standby, croup at night no longer causes alarm. One application over throat and chest usually brings relief within 15 minutes.

Made from good old-fashioned ingredients—Menthol, Camphor, Eucalyptus, Thyme, Turpentine—and combined in salve form by a special scientific process. Vicks furnishes the most convenient and economical "vapor" treatment for cold troubles it is possible to secure.

When rubbed over throat and chest for croup and colds Vicks acts in two ways. Internally its vapors, released by the body heat, are inhaled with every breath, opening the air passages and loosening the phlegm.

Externally, Vicks acts like a poultice or plaster, taking out tightness, soreness and pain.

Colds go overnight, croup is usually relieved within 15 minutes.

Birmingham Lady Tells of Her Remarkable Recovery Following Use of Cardui. "First Health in Years."

Birmingham, Ala.—Mrs. Florence Moore, 2309 Thirty-third Ave., North, this city, says:

"For many years I suffered with female trouble of every description. I was told an operation was necessary to save my life. At times I was not able to stand on my feet. I have cooked many a meal sitting, while my husband and children handed me the things with which to do it."

"I had given up all hope of ever being well again. It is a sight what women will suffer before they will listen to the advice of others. Several of my friends had taken Cardui and been benefited by it. They told me about it, but I thought my case was hopeless. Finally I told my husband to get me some Cardui and I began to take it. After I had taken the first bottle I saw that I was improving. I took eleven bottles at that time before I was cured, but as it was the first health I had had for years I was thankful to do it."

"I can't praise Cardui enough." At all druggists. NC-167

THE WOMAN'S MUSIC STUDY
CLUB, MRS. E. D. WHITMAN HOSTESS

Mrs. E. D. Whitman's pleasant entertainment suite was the charming setting for the very interesting programme of the Music Study club on January 28th.

The hostess wore a becoming gown of black beaded crepe de chine and an ivory comb caught the loose ends of her curling hair.

The programme subject "Civil War Period" was contributed to by members of the club. While the civil war period was a very depressing time to ever other form of art it produced a great number of patriotic songs. The songs had their popularity around the camp fires and only a few of them survived the war. The few that survived are a striking proof of the reconciliation of the north and south. "Dixie" is among the most popular in the north while "John Brown's Body" was first sung in the south.

The president, Mrs. H. O. Troup rapped for order at three o'clock and roll call was responded to with current events.

Programme

Steven Foster, most important folk song writer of the civil war period, round table discussion by Mrs. L. E. Hobart. Foster is said to have received $20,000 for "Old Folks at Home." The popular idea that American folk songs were inspired by the melodies of negro slaves has been thoroughly investigated. Many of the plantation songs were found to be of European rather than African origin.

Story of Sweet Alice Ben Bolt, Mrs. W. R. Shelton.

The song "Ben Bolt" sung by Mrs. Frank Morrow.

Jaunita, sung by Miss Patterson.

Plantation song, Mrs. Walter H. Todd.

The Battle Cry of Freedom, Prologue, Mrs. Herbert Hughes.

"Dixie" and "The Battle Cry of Freedom" was sung with spirit by the club members.

A social hour followed when cream and cake in the club colors were served. The hostess was assisted by club members.

There seems to be a great revival of club interest, the members vying with each other in excellent preparation of work and assignments.

MRS. WILLIAMS HONORED
Mrs. J. T. Nelson was a rook hostess of Wednesday afternoon when she complimented Mrs. Elmo Williams who will leave at an early date to make her home in Gadsden, Ala., with a farewell party. Her home as tastefully decorated for the occasion.

After playing a number of interesting games a salad course was enjoyed. The guest of honor was the recipient of a beautiful hand embroidered luncheon set given her by Mrs. Nelson as a keepsake.

The guest list was restricted to friends in the neighborhood and Miss Long.

Miss Louise Almon passed the favors yellow and pink mints in baskets of the same colors. The honoree was presented a silver baking dish as a memento of the afternoon and Mrs. B. M.
